MEDICINAL.

Men and women dig and delve their lives away in order to pile up gold with never a thought of the most precious endowment a human being may have, good health. What does it profit a man to heap up riches if in doing so he ruins his health and his capacity for the enjoyment of wealth. There is no such thing as happiness without health. All the gold in the world will not make a man happy, who feels in his veins and sees in the reflection of his own face, the slow but sure advance of man's deadliest enemy, consumption.

If a man will but take the right care of himself and the right remedy he may protect himself against this relentless enemy. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is not only a sure preventive, but an absolute cure for consumption. It cures 95 per cent. of all cases. It acts, through the blood, directly on the lungs. It drives out all disease germs and impurities. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. All wasting diseases yield promptly to its action. Thousands have testified to its merits. Druggists sell it.

SILVER NEAR ROANOKE.

Considerable excitement has been caused by the reported discovery of a cave on Tinker mountain very rich in silver, and which, if true, promises to draw the attention of the people of the entire country to that section. It is seemingly the early history of that locality an old man lived on Tinker mountain, about four miles north of Roanoke who mented iron and tinware, and who went by the name of "Tinker." From him the mountain and the creek near Roanoke, which empties into the Roanoke river, took their names. According to the legend, he was always known to have plenty of silver, and it was common report that he had discovered a cave on the side of the mountain, whose location he would not reveal, and from which he drew his stock of the precious metal as occasion required.

About two years ago, it is further stated, a man named Patterson found a keg of silver coins on the mountain under a ledge of rock near where the cave was supposed to be located. He afterwards had the land in that locality layed off and surveyed, and it is said he paid for the work with money obtained from the keg.

Sam Burger was county surveyor at the time, and this survey is said to have been ordered by Patterson and a man named Jerre Starr. Lately it has been reported that James Riley, a resident of that locality, a hard working farmer, has found the entrance to this cave.

It is said to be under a ledge on the side of the mountain, and it is said that a rock has been cut to exactly fit the opening. Riley, so the rumor goes, removed the rock and explored the cave, finding in it a solid column of silver ore 6 inches square, which is supposed to have been thrown up in the general upheaval in that section, and then ran down between the crevices of the rocks. The column shows that silver ore has been taken from it in days gone by, and some of the ore in Riley's possession is said to have assayed 90 per cent. of pure silver. Riley has shown the cave to only one man, whom, it is said, he took with him to corroborate the truth of his story. What his plans are no one seems to know, but that a remarkable discovery of silver ore has recently been made in that locality seems to be borne out in the rumors which have been in circulation there for two weeks or more, in regard to the matter.

MADE A MANIAC BY FRIGHT.—A dispatch from Gilberton, Pa., says: "Peter Sotika was the victim Saturday night of a most thrilling experience, which he is not expected to survive. Peter was employed in the Draper mines. Saturday evening he was sent in a basket to do some work. The starter had placed a stick of dynamite under a body of coal in a battery, to cause an explosion. On his way to work Sotika failed to hear the cry of warning for his benefit before firing the blast. When he was close to the charge the explosion occurred, but none of the flying debris struck him. Then followed a remarkable and unusual circumstance. Sotika stood as though paralyzed from fright. His eyes and mouth were wide open and figure rigid. He would neither move nor speak. A few moments later blood gushed from his nose and mouth, collapse followed and he dropped to the ground. Several of the unfortunate man's companions tried to get him to his feet, and while thus engaged Sotika became a raving maniac and fought with the ferocity of a wild beast, six men being unable to hold him. After considerable difficulty Sotika was bound hand and foot and conveyed to his home. A physician stated that the rupture of a blood vessel in the head had caused the trouble. He is in a critical condition.

A Valuable Prescription.
Editor Morrison of the Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2025 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1.00. Get a Bottle at E. L. Allen's Drug Store.

AMERICAN LADY

CORSETS.

TYPICAL OF GRACE.

That oppressive feeling of warmth, tired, run down system may all come from wearing a heavy winter corset in summer weather. Let us suggest the importance of banishing that most disagreeable, heavy, unsuitable summer indispensable even until the return of cold weather and try a pair of the thinnest, lightest and coolest corsets made in the world for the hottest weather. The American Lady Corsets have conquered all opposition and have won the praise of the American woman for noble intention cemented in the icicle corset of the day. This corset will lower the temperature of the wearer to a measure suited to our climatic changes. That always insatiable thirst for something cooling in extremely warm weather will disappear and a feeling of rejuvenescence will be the reward. All sizes.

PRICE $1.75.
